HUSBAND OF RICH WOMAN IS A NAVAL PRISONER

Came From Philadelphia In Pullman Car And With Guard In Civilian Clothes--Will Serve One Year For Desertion

C. J. Magness, the husband of the rich daughter of the late United States Senator Gorman of Baltimore, who is better known to the navy department as C. J. Hartlove, first-class musician, arrived here Tuesday afternoon, and at once reported on board the United States prison ship Topokah to begin his sentence of one year for desertion from the navy.

Magness or Hartlove made the trip from Philadelphia under the guard of Mate Albert B. Moore, U. S. N. He was accompanied by his wife and made the trip in style, coming to New York in a pullman car and in the first class cabin on the Fall River boat. They arrived in Boston at eleven o'clock Tuesday forenoon and at once were driven in a cab to a hotel, where all dined on the best that money could buy.

Here Mrs. Magness bade her husband a sorrowful goodbye, but promised to see him soon as it is stated that she will come to this city and reside while her husband is a prisoner, that is after she has exhausted her effort to have him pardoned for it is understood that a petition to the President to this effect will be made at once. At 12.30 Mate Moore and his prisoner both in civilian clothing took the train from this city, having had seals reserved for them in the Pullman.

They arrived here at 2.35, Tuesday afternoon and an once took a carriage for the navy yard by the way of Kittery. Instead of going by the way of the government ferry from this city, they were driven immediately to the prison ship Topokah, where he was turned over to the commanding officer and after being registered turned over to the master of arms.

In direct contrast to the way that Magness made the trip as a prisoner, was that of four marines who arrived on the same train from Washington, under sentence for the same offense, desertion. They were shackled together and under the guard of a sergeant and two marines armed with pistols. They made the trip to New York, second-class passengers, and on the Fall River boat took what was given them. At Boston they got some thing to eat at a down town cafe and on their arrival here were marched to the ferry and taken to the yard.

On board ship all contrast ended, and today Magness is a common prisoner, although his wife is worth a half a million. Magness was made on his arrival to strip off all of his good clothes and he was credited with everything by the Paymaster. He had a valuable gold watch and much jewelry. He was obliged to take a bath and was then given his grey prison suit with a number like all the others and sent forward. Tomorrow he will take his place with the gang who work about the yard clearing up.

Unless he can secure a pardon through his wife's influential friends he will have to serve his entire term. By good behavior he can get this reduced to eight months, and if he should happen to be a mechanic or capable of doing yeoman duty he can get six months off his original sentence but this is the limit with out a pardon from the president.

Magness or Hartlove was a first

Large Amount of Coal Comes in Barges

Member Methodist Choir Is Seriously Ill

Many Visitors to and from Town for Thanksgiving

Kittery, Me., Nov. 25.

The many friends of Miss Hattie Langton, daughter of Mr. John Langton, will be sorry to learn that she was taken ill while singing at the Second Methodist church on Sunday and is reported to be in a serious condition. She has the sincere sympathy of the community who hope for a speedy recovery.

On account of tomorrow being Thanksgiving day there will be no meetings of any of the lodges in the evening.

There was a good attendance at the benefit dance given in Grange Hall on Tuesday evening by the Sons of Veterans.

Mrs. J. Wilson Hobbs is very much improved from her recent illness.

For all the latest local news order the Herald delivered at your home for three months for one dollar.

There will be a regular meeting of the auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans in Hayes block on Friday evening.

Master Thomas Stevenson has again recovered from his recent illness and is able to be out of doors.

St. Asaph's Tribe of Red Men will meet in Grange Hall on Friday evening.

The schools closed today until Monday next for the usual Thanksgiving holidays.

Tonight in Grange Hall Whipple Lodge of Good Templars will hold their regular weekly meeting.

Many family reunions are to take place tomorrow and absent members are fast arriving to be home once more for Thanksgiving. Several in town have left for their homes away, to be gone for a few days to join their families. Visiting in general will be in order tomorrow and we certainly are having good weather only we miss the accustomed snow to make it seem a real old-fashioned Thanksgiving day.

There will be no meeting this week of the Ladies' Circle of the Second Christian church.

Only one week from today then December will be with us.

Miss Bessie Kelley is reported only slightly ill with diphtheria at her home on Wendworth street.

Josephine Walte has been restricted to her home by illness.

Mrs. Lucy Latta of the Rogers road is to live in the future with Mrs. Walter McDonald.

Mr. George Shannon of Echo street, who is eighty-five years of age, was able for the first time in many years to take a walk out with friends as far as the navy yard station and was the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Nettie Wilcox on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bowden are to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Locke the coming winter at the Intervale.

The Christian Endeavor Society connected with the Second Christian church has been affiliated with the Maine State Union and York county Unions recently.

Mr. Fred Ford Locke still continues very ill, to the regret of his many friends.

Miss Emma Rogers was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Alexander Bennett of Echo street, on Sunday.

Mrs. Richard J. Rogers is entertaining friends from Kennebunk.

Mrs. Margaret Norton of Melrose, Mass., was the guest of friends over Sunday at the celebration of the Methodist church, she being one of its members.

Mrs. Daniel A. Burnham is the guest of Mrs. May Goodins at her home on the Rogers road.

Piscataqua Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will meet tonight in Odd Fellows' Hall.

Mrs. Charles Bailey of Ferry Lane, who has been sick for the past month, is not so well. She is at the home of her sister, Mrs. George Colby, at the Junction.

Some time during Monday night the halliards were removed from the flagpole of the Wentworth school building. This is the second time within a month that this trick has been done. The superintendent of schools has offered five dollars' reward for the detection of persons who maliciously interfere with school property in this, or any other manner.

Mrs. Eliza Chase of Portland, who was the guest of friends over Sunday, returned to her home on Tuesday.

Rev. John H. Lapham, a former pastor here who was in town at the opening of the Second Methodist church, returned to his home in Old Orchard on Tuesday.

The omission of the League service on Sunday evening was due to two causes--first, sudden illness of the leader; and secondly that the janitor had so much on his shoulders that he had no time to make ready the room. It is trusted that those who exerted themselves to attend will do so again.

On Sunday, Nov. 22, there were three valuable dogs killed on Main street by being run over. It is a well known fact that the streets of a country village are narrow even at their best. Take out the room for an electric system and it leaves but little for the traveler. When we stop to consider that both men and animals are entitled to some rights and privileges, why not use a little precaution. The rate at which some motorists and the owners of automobiles go through our main roads is so many alarming and the only wonder is that no more accidents occur. Sunday's slaughter makes a list now called to mind, of four dogs and a cat, all of which were great pets and valuable, that have been killed in the past four months. Many are saying that if the matter is not checked it surely should be looked after by the selection of the town.

The fortieth anniversary of the Second Methodist church will be observed on Thursday, Dec. 31, "watch night," with services each day until and including the first Sunday in the new year. It is hoped before that time to clear up the remaining $100 of church debt from the recent remodeling.

Kittery Point

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Jennison have closed their home at Gerrish Island and will pass the winter in Boston.

Hon. Horace Mitchell was in Boston Tuesday on business.

Mrs. Ethel M. Mitchell of Wellesley College has returned to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents at the Sparhawk mansion.

ALBERT P. HASKELL AND EMMA MAE SMART

Portsmouth Young Woman Is Married to a Boston Electrical Engineer

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Smart, on Main street today at noon, Rev. George E. Leighton, pastor of the Universalist parish, pronounced the words that united one of Portsmouth's fairest daughters, Miss Emma Mae Smart, and Albert Percival Haskell of Boston in the holy bonds of wedlock. The ceremony took place in the presence of only immediate friends and relatives.

At the appointed hour and to the wedding march strains beautifully played by Mrs. George E. Leighton the bridal party entered the parlor and took their place for the ceremony. The bride was exquisitely gowned in lavender crepe de chine, trimmings of ermine, baby Irish lace and ribbon, over white silk tulle. She wore a coronet of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

The maid of honor was Miss Marion Grant, who looked charming in a dress of gossamer blue trimmed with white applique. Her bouquet was of carthage pink.

The groom was attended by Harold Smart, brother of the bride.

A wedding feast followed the ceremony consisting of salads, roasts, olives, salted almonds, glace fruit, harlequin ice cream, lemon milk sherbet, assorted cake, wafers and fruit.

The decorations by Capstick were something for the eye to dwell upon and were a very effective and appropriate adornment. Pink and green were the prevailing colors of the dining room while the parlor was in green and white, balustrade twined with Southern laurel tied at foot with bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

The wedding gifts were exceedingly beautiful and numerous and comprised silver, cut glass, linen, purse of gold, china, bracelet and a handsome silver service from the employees of the Times Publishing Company, where the bride has acted as clerk for the past year.

The groom's gift to the bride was a valuable hand-carved bracelet of solid gold and the bride's gift to the groom a gold Masonic watch fob with diamond setting.

The groom presented the best man with a signet ring, while the bride's gift to the maid of honor was a bracelet ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Haskell left on the 1.55 afternoon train for New York, Washington and New Orleans. At the conclusion of the wedding trip it is likely that the groom's business will cause them to spend the winter in the south.

The going away gown of the bride was a tailor made sand brown imported broadcloth, ermine lace bodice over chiffon, hat of pail velvet trimmed with brown wings, velvet roses of old rose hue and gold buckle.

The bride is a graduate of Portsmouth High school and is a lady of more than ordinary charms of personality combined with a vivacious spirit which makes her attractive in whatever company she may find herself.

The groom is a young man of sterling quality and holds a responsible position as engineer at the General Electric Company, Boston, where he is held in high esteem by the management and is popular among hosts of friends, acquaintances and fellow workers.

When Mrs. Haskell cut her wedding cake there was a keen desire to learn who would receive the pieces having mementoes in them. The gold fob was found by her father, Mr. John J. Smart, the ring to Miss Elizabeth T. Kane and the diamond to Mr. Christopher Smart.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY ATTEMPTED

By Tramps in This City on Tuesday Night and They Escaped

On Tuesday evening about eleven o'clock Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Murphy of Dear street, while on their way home, were held up by two good, fresh tramps who demanded a small sum of money.

It appears that they ran up against the wrong party and found that Mr. Murphy was not doing charity work just at that time, especially with the delegation that made the demand. When Murphy told them what he would do and started to do it they took to the woods.

There were others waiting nearby and it looked as if they were out for business. They got another warm reception from a bartender in one of the saloons in that district and disappeared completely when the police got on their track.

W. T. MELOON'S HORSE WON THE $100 MATCHED RACE

W. T. Mealon's speedy mare, New Castle Belle, won the matched race against Red George, owned by John Adams of Portsmouth, on Tuesday afternoon at the old Rockingham track.

The race was for a purse of $100, and was trotted best three in five. The winner took the second, fourth and fifth heats, with close finishes in all five.

The track was heavy and the best time was 2.30. Eugene McCue was starter and was assisted by judges and timers, Dr. E. C. Ingalls and Charles Lynskey.

A large throng watched the race and it is said that much money changed hands on the result.

A return match of the same two good horses is expected in the near future and will be sure to draw large crowds.

ENGLAND IS SCARED

Complacent old England has a scare. Lord Roberts, formerly general-in-chief of the British armies, has risen in his seat in the House of Lords and told the nation that it wouldn't be a particularly difficult feat for the German empire to land an army of 200,000 or 300,000 men in Great Britain.

He told them that their great navy could not prevent the invasion if that navy was scattered so that the portion at home was smaller than the German navy.

He further told them that the Germans have railroad service from the interior to the harbors and merchant vessels enough in the harbor to serve as army transports, together to make practical the assembling and transportation of the army and that the German navy could easily protect that army on the short voyage from German ports to Great Britain.

The point to those remarks was that Britain must have a home army equal to the taking care of the invaders if such an army should be landed.

The great Napoleon threatened to invade England, and to do on a large scale what John Bull Jones did on a small scale. Grover Cleveland sent a message to Congress calmly proposing that a United States commission be organized to settle a British boundary. The German Kaiser has just been making some foolish talk which confirms the world in its previous opinion that the Kaiser means to fight with Britain for European supremacy. These are the only instance, in almost two centuries when John Bull has listened to his own kind of language coming at him from others.

The Kaiser's recent talk prepared the opportunity of which Lord Roberts has so effectively availed himself. England will do something for the establishment of a home military force. It is already suggested that it might take the form of a trained militia reserve, something like the American national guard to be trained to act in conjunction with the regulars in the army posts stations and forts.

For England is scared.

THE SEAPORTS OF EUROPE
And the Lessons They Teach of How To Develop a Harbor.

No. 4, MANCHESTER, ENGLAND
Manchester is situated on a branch of the river Mersey, sixty miles from the sea. It is the center of the great cotton industry of Great Britain, and is one of the largest manufacturing cities of the world. It has a population of 900,000.

Almost every kind of cotton and silk goods, from rich brocade to flimsy Persian is manufactured in Manchester. Factories and warehouses are numerous and of great proportions.

The city is surrounded by numerous and extensive coal mines, and is connected with different parts of the country by railways and canals. It has many beautiful buildings among which are the Exchange Building, in Doric style, the Town Hall in Ionic style, formed on the model of the Temple of Erechthus at Athens; and the Corn Exchange. There are also several institutions of learning.

The city of Manchester is noted for its progressiveness. The ship canal begun in 1830 and constructed at a cost of $75,000,000, was an immense undertaking and showed great faith in the future.

The enormous business of the city felt the strain of competition caused by the expense in bringing goods from the port of Liverpool by rail, and the result has been that a canal has been dug from Liverpool which is 35 miles long, 28 feet deep and from 120 to 180 feet wide, giving to Manchester direct communication with all parts of the world. There are now regular lines of steamers to Canada, United States ports, South America, Australia, Norway, Russia and Denmark.

The Manchester Canal is tidal for a distance of twenty-one miles and there are five systems of locks, the largest of which is 500 feet long and eighty feet wide. The other large locks are 600 feet long and sixty-five feet wide. The small locks are 350 feet long and forty-five feet wide. This canal is available for vessels as large as 550 feet by sixty-two feet and drawing twenty-six feet of water. Up to the present time the largest ship using the canal has been 500 feet in length, with a tonnage of 12,000 tons. There is a rise of fifty-eight feet from the mouth of the canal to Manchester.

The docks are all connected with the railways and there are cold storage buildings and warehouses, equipped with all the latest appliances, including electric cranes, etc.

The facilities for coaling ships is of the first order. One of the coaling stations on the banks of the canal being equipped with six hydraulic tips, each capable of loading 160 tons an hour.

Since the opening of the canal many new industries have been started in Manchester, which goes to show the benefits which follow the development of a port.

What the people of Glasgow, Newcastle and Manchester have accomplished by digging seems almost beyond comprehension. They have not only dug down in their rivers, but they have dug down in their pockets as well, and the results have been more than satisfactory.

What a contrast these streams must have made to our magnificent river?

Does it not seem strange that the development of the Piscataqua has

OPEN SEASON ON DEER A QUESTION
Commissioners Rule That It Is But Eleven Days

A week from today the open deer season in Rockingham county will begin, and will continue until Dec. 15, with 11 days of actual hunting. This is according to the ruling of the fish and game commission. The law placing an open season on deer in this county was passed at the 1907 session of the legislature, and since then its ambiguity has caused many interpretations to be placed on it. It was evidently intended by the legislators that the open season should be the first fifteen days of December, exclusive of Sundays, when hunting and fishing are illegal in any open season. The law as passed, however, reads "from the 1st to the 15th" without the word "inclusive."

Last year, the first open season hunters in this section and all through the county shouldered their guns and went out Dec. 1. In fact, on this day a large number of deer were brought down. This year the situation will be different, and it is possible that a number of prosecutions may result from the new interpretation of the law.

REPUBLICANS SELECT THEIR TICKET FOR CAUCUSES

The Republican City Committee held a meeting on Tuesday evening and made the final arrangements for the mayoralty caucus on Saturday afternoon and evening. Mr. Harry B. Yenton presided and Frank W. Knight was secretary. It was voted to have Harry B. Boynton act as moderator at the caucus on Saturday and Ceylon Spohny as secretary.

The committee after considerable discussion endorsed the following ticket for councilmen at large: Henry P. Payne of ward one, Eugene B. Eastman of ward two, John Newell of ward three and William H. White, Jr., of ward five.

For the four members of the Board of Instruction the committee endorsed Rev. L. H. Thayer, Mrs. Hewitt, Warren Davis and Frank W. Knight. Mr. A. P. Howard refused to allow his name to be used for another term.

NEW ENGLAND GOVERNORS' MEETING A GREAT SUCCESS

Boston, Nov. 24.—"Highways and Their Use" was the theme of the third and final session of the New England Conference at the Tremont Theatre this afternoon. The possibilities of New England's traffic and travel arteries were considered under three heads, their construction, their use, and their regulation, the logical order of their development. Each of these three departments was discussed by an expert—Harold Parker, chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Commission, on "The Construction of Highways"; James H. MacDonald, commissioner of highways of Connecticut, on "Frank Lines of Highways for New England," and Hon. Nahum J. Bachelder, ex-governor of New Hampshire, on "Autonomous Highways and Their Regulation."

At two o'clock when the afternoon session was called to order by Governor Guild, chairman of the conference, the largest audience of any of the meetings was facing the rank of New England governors from the Beers, boxes, and balconies of the playhouse.

On the platform, representing the gubernatorial body of New England were: Governors William T. Cobb of Maine, Charles M. Floyd of New Hampshire, Rollin S. Woodruff of Connecticut, and Curtis Guild, Jr., of Massachusetts.

Not least present with the development of the rivers and harbors of Europe and America?

ERNEST HOLMES.

Exalted Ruler E. L. Chaney of the Elks is hustling things for the opening of the club house on Thanksgiving day.

The omission of the word "inclusive" has been the occasion of the placing of the commissioner's interpretation on the law. This interpretation is not generally known, and consequently a large number of ambitious hunters will load their guns for deer and start out Tuesday. Under the ruling of the commission there will be 11 days of hunting the 1st and the 15th being excluded. With the number of deer around now it is argued that this is long enough.

The law when passed was designed chiefly for the protection of the farmers of the country. It is estimated that in the 15 days of hunting in 1907 there were over 1000 deer killed in Hillsborough county and almost as many in this county. Considering this and the fact that the survivors are now extremely wild, it is believed that the law has served its purpose and that an effort to repeal it will be made at the next session of the legislature.

That the law should not be repealed is the opinion of most sportsmen.

Ward One Republicans Select Ticket

The Republican Committee of Ward One, held a meeting on Tuesday evening, and will present the name of Eben B. Blaisdell as ward councilman and Henry P. Payne as councilman at large. The committee also voted to endorse Frank W. Knight as a member of the Board of Instruction.

Ward Three Select Ticket

The Republican Committee of Ward Three at a meeting agreed upon C. Ellsworth Hodgdon as their candidate to be supported for councilman at their caucus.

Ward Four Have Agreed

The Republican Committee of Ward Four at their meeting on Tuesday evening, voted to present the name of Clarence Smart to the caucus on Friday evening for ward councilman.

ALARM FELT FOR HOSPITAL SHIP
Now Five Days Overdue At Island Of Guam

Manila, Nov. 25.—The United States hospital ship Relief, which sailed from here on Nov. 15, bound for San Francisco, has not yet reached Guam and is now five days overdue. Considerable alarm is felt for her safety and for that of the sick aboard, and a ship has been sent in search of her.

The Relief had intended to land today members of the cable staff at Guam. Her departure from here was followed by severe storms, in which it is feared she has been caught.

The Relief left Mare Island in February to join the battleship fleet in Australian waters. Between Auckland and Sydney she rolled so badly that it was feared she might turn over. Because of this apparent unseaworthiness Admiral Sperry ordered her to proceed from Sydney to Manila direct.

Three vessels of the China-Manila trade are overdue here.

SUFFERED A NERVOUS COLAPSE

Frank Worthing of the Grace George Company Taken Ill in this city And Obligated to Give Up

Frank Worthing, who has gained a reputation in this country and England as one of the foremost actors, the support of Miss Grace George in the "Divorces" suffered a complete nervous collapse in this city on Tuesday and was unable to play with the company that evening. Mr. Worthing played his part with the company at Concord, Monday evening and never gave a better performance, but it was all on his nerve and Tuesday when he arrived in this city he was a sick man. On a physician's advice he did not play on Tuesday evening, but instead left at 6.25 for New York to consult a specialist and from there will go to Virginia Hot Springs for a month's rest before rejoining the company.

Tuesday was an ideal day with a temperature that reminded one of September.

Usual Services for Thanksgiving

Up Town and Down Town At Football

Holiday Occurrences in the Town and Schools

Exeter, Nov. 25.

Considerable interest centers in the football clash due to take place on Thanksgiving morning at the campus. The two gladiatorial contingents will climb into the arena with a cry of "Morturi saluamus" to the spectators. They are the ancient rivals, the up towns and the down towns. The game is to be played in the morning so that everybody can go and those who do not go are likely to miss a contest that will put the Harvard-Yale game into oblivion, and some plays and formations that Camp or Baughn in their wildest fancies never dreamed of.

An event which will attract lovers of minstrelsy is the show given by the members of Court Wheelwright, Foresters of America, in the town hall this evening. It will be a real minstrel show with a company that has been carefully rehearsed and who will give numerous brilliant with fun and laughter.

Thanksgiving will be observed here in the usual manner. The union services will be held in the First Congregational church conducted by the pastor, Rev. George H. Driver. For the secular part of the day, besides the football game, a dance will be held in Unity Hall, a sunlight dance from 2.30 to 5.30, followed by a supper and moving pictures as an entertainment. The evening will also be devoted to dancing.

The Thanksgiving recess at the academy began this morning and will continue till Friday at four o'clock. Most of the students will, however, remain in town as the distance to their homes would not permit visits to them. Doubtless those who remain will be entertained in

NAVY YARDS HERE AND AWAY

Will Lay Off Men at Washington

Consternation was caused at the Washington navy yard on Monday when an official bulletin was posted announcing that between 200 and 300 employees will be dismissed on or about January 1.

The Washington Star says on the subject:

In the light of recent statements of officials of the navy that there would probably be no further reduction of the force of the naval gun factory, confidence was restored in the ranks of the thousands of workers. They were looking forward to work for the winter and the support of their families in the period of ice, cold and chilling snows and north winds.

The announcement today, therefore, came like lightning from a clear sky to the toilers at the navy yard. Many were dumfounded. Mechanics and helpers are fearful that they may be the names to appear on the fateful list of men whose services are to be dispensed with at the close of the present year.

The order is signed by Rear Admiral Lenz, commandant of the yard, and explains that the reduction will be necessary to reduce the force of the Washington navy yard to a peace basis. It was stated, however, that the order for the reduction of the force came from the navy department, and that Admiral Lenz had no alternative.

An officer of Columbia Lodge of Mechanics said this afternoon: "The proposed discharge, if carried into effect, will mean a loss to the business men of the District of more than $1,000 per day, or a quarter of a million dollars each year. We feel that if all the ordinance work which was provided for by Congress had been placed in the Washington navy yard the proposed reduction would not have been necessary."

Will Give Their Annual Show

The crew of the prison ships Southern and Topaka will give their annual minstrel performance tomorrow on the deck of the Southern. An excellent program has been prepared by the artists among the crew and with a fine Thanksgiving menu that will be served the men will pass the day in rare enjoyment.

Back From Sick Leave

Albert G. McNabb, rigger in the department of construction and repair, has returned from a sick furlough.

While at work on a band saw, the blade moving at a rapid speed, broke and the fragments cut him badly about the face. He received other injuries from flying wood which struck him with much force in the stomach.

Cable is Out of Gear

A delay in coaling the battleship Maine is due to an accident to the apparatus used for the same at the coaling plant.

Will Have the Facts

Workmen are preparing data for action before the board of wages who will shortly meet to hear the men who will come up for increase of wages.

Now For Fancy Shots

Sergeants Bristol, Sullivan and Buegel will enjoy a gunning trip along the Maine coast tomorrow and their comrades are looking for a rare feast when these crack shots get through plinking them on the wing.

Will Travel in Special Cars

The crowd that will accompany the football team of the U. S. N. Maine to Newburyport tomorrow will travel in four special cars attached to the 8.15 morning train. It will be the biggest crowd of voters to leave this city for many years and it is hoped will do any good the boys from the navy will come home with a victory.

Will Send Them to the Islands

It is the plan of the navy department, when the marine guard is removed from the ships of the navy of the navy, to send a large number of them to the Philippines.

They Need a Lot of Bread

It takes over 1500 pounds of bread each day for the crew of the battleship Maine which is from the bakery of Flynn Brothers on State street.

Visitors at the Yard

Police Commissioner Bert Wentworth and Officer Stevens of the Dover police department, with Liquor Inspector Flood, visited the yard on Tuesday and were piloted about the reservation by Capt. J. C. Royce of the yard ship watch.

Painters Lose Jobs at Boston

On Tuesday twenty-four painters who have been employed in the repair department at Boston yard were discharged. It is expected the discharges of other workmen will follow in a few days, on account of lack of work.

There are but three ships, the Birmingham, Salem and New York, at the yard.

LOST

A small wooden box containing several brooches and other ornaments of small value except as keepsakes, was left in the postoffice on the sixteenth of November, and with it a small cardboard box containing fine water-color brushes and paints. A reward of five dollars will be paid to the finder on leaving these boxes and contents at the drug store of Mr. Benjamin Green, on the corner of High and Congress streets.

DOVER'S MAYOR A REPUBLICAN

George J. Foster Chosen At City Election

The Republicans Also to Control New City Government by a Two-Thirds Vote

Dover, Nov. 25—George J. Foster, Republican, was elected mayor on Tuesday by a plurality of 457 votes over Ezra D. Pinkham, Democrat, in a total vote of 2320, the vote standing: Foster, 1387; Pinkham, 909; William H. Gouda, Socialist, 33.

The incoming board of aldermen will consist of seven Republicans and three Democrats, and the council will contain eleven Republicans and four Democrats, a Democratic gain of one in the lower branch of the city government.

Mr. Foster has occupied the mayor's chair before, he having filled the vacancy occurring through the death of Mayor Pinkham for four months in 1906.

George J. Foster, the mayor-elect, is the son of the late Joshua L. and Lucretia A. (Gale) Foster, and was born in Concord fifty years ago. At an early age his parents moved to this city, where his father engaged in the newspaper business, being the founder of Foster's Daily Democrat.

Mayor Foster has been engaged in the newspaper business nearly all his life and at the present time has a successful establishment. Mr. Foster has served on the school board for over twenty years and during the last six he has been the efficient chairman. He was a representative to the state legislature from Ward 1 in 1922. It was during his term of office that the death of James G. Blaine occurred and Mayor Foster was one of the committee on resolutions. The resolutions on Mr. Blaine's demise as drawn up by Mr. Foster were accepted. On the death of Mayor Pinkham in 1906, he served the last four months of the term. He was also a candidate for mayor at the election of that year and was defeated by a close margin by the present mayor, M. J. White. Mayor Foster is married and has three children, one daughter who is a teacher in the local high school, a son who is engaged in the newspaper business with his father, and a second son, a student at Exeter.

Mr. Pinkham, the Democratic candidate, was formerly a Portsmouth housekeeper and has served in the state Senate.

READ THIS

"It is astonishing," remarked a well known authority on Diseases of the skin, "how such a large number of people, especially ladies, are, by attractively written advertisements, induced to purchase some one of the many so called Beauty Creams now on the market, not knowing, of course, that they mostly contain oily or greasy substances that clog the pores of the skin and are, for that reason, the very worst thing that they could possibly use. My treatment of Pimples, Blackheads, Blisters and all eruptions of the skin, are as follows and has, in many cases, been successful."

Wash the face carefully every night before retiring with warm water and a little oat meal tied up in a small cloth bag, then, after drying well, use the following inexpensive which can be filled at any Drug Store. Clearola 1-2 oz. Ether 1 oz. Alcohol 5 oz. Use this mixture on the face as often as possible during the day, but use night and morning any way, allowing it to remain on the face at least ten minutes, then the powdery film may be wiped off. Do not wash the face for some time after using. By following this simple treatment, you will soon have a clear and brilliant complexion.

STOMACH TROUBLE AND INDIGESTION

More Digestive Juices and No Fermentation in Your Stomach Will Rid You of these Miseries. Diapiesin will Regulate Your Stomach

If what you just ate is souring in your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Page's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure the worst case of dyspepsia, and leave satisfied about the time in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these Diapiesin cases, then you will understand why dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve a sour stomach or indigestion in five minutes. Get a case now and eat one Triangle after your next meal. They are harmless and taste like candy, though each contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a hearty, healthy appetite; but, what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or River pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many Diapiesin friends, as some people will call them, but you will be easily able to find this splendid stomach prescription, too, if you ever have indigestion or gastritis or any stomach misery, and eat just one Triangle of Diapiesin.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement is announced of Miss Marion Fann Birwell and Mr. Frederick Jackson Rider.

A soldier called at the police station last evening with a soldier's hat which he found on the street and thought the owner might be looked up. He failed to find him at the station, however, but a few minutes after returned and said that he had found somebody that would fit the hat. It was a soldier from the Fort Hall out drunk near the Methodist church on State street. He slept off his jag at the station.

Some Thanksgiving Visitors Are Now in Town

Missionary Undertaking of the Congregational Church

Eliot, Me., Nov. 25.

A lone robin is staying about the vicinity of the big cove in the river at South Eliot. Whether he was unable to fly south with the others or got separated from a migrating flock is a mystery.

Mrs. James Pickering has gone to Haverhill, Mass., to spend Thanksgiving with her daughter, Miss Alice Pickering, who is bookkeeper in a furniture establishment in that city.

Fred Pert has made the trade for the sale of a cottage lot off his land on the river bank below Greenacre. The name of the purchaser is not revealed but arrangements have been made for the erection of a cottage in the spring.

The Congregational church is following its custom of raising $40 to support a native Christian worker for one year in the district of South Madras, India, under the direction of Rev. J. P. Jones, missionary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

Albert Nowell is changing the tint of his house to slate color.

There has been little done as yet toward hiding the trees of the nests of brown-tail moths. There seem to be few nests in the woods, but orchard trees and others which stand in the open are badly infested. In one instance where they have been picked fifty nests were taken from a single pear tree.

Master Milton Spinney is the proudest boy in the whole settlement on Eliot Neck. He has a new dog, a Newfoundland, which is only a puppy now, but will grow.

Robert Wakefield of Syracuse, N. Y., is visiting friends in town.

PORTSMOUTH MAN

Was Manager of Famous Southern Hotel Now Burned

The famous Lookout Inn, on the crest of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., burned to the ground on Tuesday, Nov. 17. It was one of the finest hotels in the south, costing $250,000 when it was built in 1883 and had 400 rooms.

It is said to have entertained more distinguished people from all over the world than any other hotel in the United States.

Mr. O. L. Frisbee successfully managed this hotel the winter of 1893-94.
